BVH student to attend Boys Nation

Blue Valley High student James Geary was chosen out of a pool of 450 young men from Kansas to attend American Legion Boys Nation, a prestigious leadership opportunity. American Legion Boys Nation is a week-long citizenship and government program that is designed to instill in each participant a deep loyalty to America while providing practical insight into the function and operation of our federal government.

Geary, who just completed his junior year at Blue Valley High, recently attended Kansas Boys State, where he was elected by his peers from across the state to attend the national event. Boys Nation will take place in July in Washington, D.C.
