Stanley Elementary principal named

Andrea Eisner has been named principal of Stanley Elementary, located at 6121 West 158th Street in Overland Park. Eisner currently works as an elementary school principal in Omaha, Nebraska. Eisner will begin her duties in Blue Valley on August 1.

She began her career in school administration in 2002 as assistant principal of Marrs Elementary in Omaha and was named principal of Ponca Elementary in School in 2005. Before 2002, she served 11 years as an elementary school teacher.

“I am thrilled to have the opportunity to join the outstanding team at Stanley Elementary School,” Eisner said. “Stanley has a rich tradition of educational excellence and I look forward to working collaboratively with the staff, parents and school community to ensure the legacy of excellence continues strong.”

Eisner received her bachelor’s degree in elementary education in 1991 and her master of elementary education in 1995, from Creighton University.

“We were pleased to find a successful experienced candidate who matches so well with the needs of Stanley Elementary,” said Jim Payne, executive director of Human Resources. “We are enthusiastic about her leadership capabilities.”
