Blue Valley Board of Education votes to move forward with 2012 bond election

This morning during a special Board meeting, the Blue Valley Board of Education unanimously voted 7-0 to move forward with a $271,285,031 bond election. Registered voters in the Blue Valley School District will have the opportunity to vote in a January mail-in ballot election that will provide Blue Valley students with technology replacements and upgrades, provide for re-investment in the district's facilities, and provide for school safety improvements.

“After careful consideration and looking at the current and future needs, the Board of Education is pleased to support bringing a bond election to the Blue Valley community,” said Sue Matson, Blue Valley Board of Education president. “We are very fortunate to have a community that has historically supported bond elections and understands the value of a high quality education.”

The district will host three community open houses about the bond election in January. Information about the proposed bond is available on the district’s website at www.bluevalleyk12.org/bond.
